Web Developer & Business Developer Professional

I am a curious and motivated developer with experience in front and back end technologies. I am passionate about programming and problem solving. A fast learner I am able to recognise weaknesses and areas of improvement in applications and automate internal processes within the organization where needed.

Currently, working on a Python, Django PostgreSQL stack running on AWS. My everyday work also includes interactions with Javascript, Gulp, Ansible, Docker, CircleCi, NewRelic etc.
Additionally experienced Nodejs, C++, Angularjs, MongoDB, Heroku etc.

I am interested in learning about new technologies and utilise them solve everyday problems and build better and efficient applications.
